A grateful client launches a seminar for horse owners

India Watson, whose horse Justin was a patient in the large animal hospital, is a grateful and generous client. She initiated the Justin Seminar Series, a program for horse owners, trainers, and riders to get first-hand information and advice from the college’s large animal faculty.

She has organized, promoted, and secured funding for three seminars so far as her way of thanking large animal surgeon John Peroni and the hospital’s faculty, staff, and students who treated Justin’s rear leg for multiple lacerations.

“It’s been very easy — it doesn’t feel like work,” Watson says. “The response has been unbelievable — everyone is so positive and appreciative. I did it because I want other horse owners to know that UGA is a partner with local veterinarians. It’s a safe place to go where your horses are in good hands.”
A note in Aesculapian inspires a generous donor

Retired LCDR Gene Trayer recently gave the college $25,000 to endow a resident support fund in oncology to memorialize his daughter, Irene Trayer Anderson, and his beloved dog, Sassy, who was cared for throughout his life by Ginger Macaulay (DVM '84).

Although he had no previous connection with the college, he read about the possibility of setting up an endowment in Aesculapian and made the arrangements during subsequent conversations with our development staff.

He plans to present another $25,000 to the fund this year by visiting the teaching hospital along with his son, a veteran of the War in Iraq.

She helps donors with major decisions

Julie Knowlton joined our development team as major gifts officer for the College. She’s responsible for acquainting potential donors with the College’s needs and helping them match their needs and interests with those of the College.

Knowlton has worked at UGA for more than 20 years, in the Grady College of Journalism and Terry College of Business, among others. When not at the office you can usually find her on a bicycle. If you have questions about arranging a gift that will benefit the college and complement your own financial goals, contact her at 706/542.7049 or gifts@vet.uga.edu.

* deceased donor
A donor who prefers to remain anonymous contributed $1 million to the College for a new teaching hospital. “I thought when I went through the hospital, ‘Gosh this is a good place — it just needs some help.’”

“I really think the idea of a new hospital is absolutely necessary. We need the training that you provide — training the next generation of veterinarians.”

Her interest in the College stems from her love of animals and her respect for the College’s reputation. “I’ve heard good things about you,” she said. “I’ve been a little more fortunate in life than others, and whatever little bit I can do I will do.”

Sue Smith joined the external affairs staff as assistant director of communications. Her responsibilities include getting out the good news about the college, updating the college’s website, using her computer design talents, and taking photographs for publications.

She graduated from Clemson, has a master’s degree in print journalism from UGA, is working on another bachelor’s degree in photography at UGA, and tries to work horseback riding into her busy days whenever she can.

Contact her if you have news for our website or Aesculapius, or if you need photos about College events, you can reach her at 706/542-1446 or tellus@vet.uga.edu.
They dedicated most of their lives to animals

Judith Fellton, an artist, and her husband, Herman Fellton, owners of the successful Getz Pest Control Company, dedicated the last 40 years of their lives to breeding, showing, and judging dogs and Arabian horses.

Ofticiating at dog shows took them all over the country and as far away as Australia. At home in Cobb County they were among the first supporters of the humane society.

Judith Fellton was president of the Afghan Hound Club and developed a nationwide rescue program for Doberman Pinschers which she directed until her death in 2003.

Her husband, an officer in the U.S. Public Health Service, was active in the Morris Animal Foundation, the Atlanta Kennel Club, and the Atlanta Humane Society until his death in 1997.

The Felltons included the College in their will with a sizable donation in support of canine research.

Grateful alumni giving back

Alumni Gary Bullard (DVM ’69) and Larry Corry (DVM ’66) volunteered to lead the alumni fundraising campaign for a new teaching hospital.

They have exceeded raising more than $245,000 so far, composed almost entirely of $25,000 gifts. Both Bullard and Corry personally pledged a generous amount to the fund.

“We’re doing this because veterinary medicine has been good to us,” says Bullard, “and we just want to give something back.” His challenge to other alums: “If you’re been good to us,” says Bullard, “and we just want to give to the fund.

To date, the fundraising campaign has raised $253,368, with donations from 419 alumni. Of this amount, $207,728 comes from gifts of $25,000, with the largest gift of $100,000 coming from an anonymous donor. The remaining $45,640 comes from a variety of other donations, including $10,000 from Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Madison and $5,000 from Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. MacDowell.

For and About Alumni and Friends of the UGA College of Veterinary Medicine
Two ways to honor animals and those who love them

Personalized bricks
You can purchase a personalized brick inscribed with your name or the name of a pet or person whom you wish to honor.

Personalized horseshoes
You can purchase a personalized horseshoe plaque inscribed with your name or the name of a horse or person whom you wish to honor.

Please consider this
Bricks and horseshoe plaques make welcome gifts to honor family members, new graduates, your veterinarian, or an animal and its owner.

They are also appropriate for memorializing an animal or a person who loves animals.

Bricks and horseshoes will be displayed prominently on a wall in the College of Veterinary Medicine Teaching Hospital.

Proceeds from these tax-deductible gifts will give needed support to the College.
For details please contact Brooke Stortz, 706/542.6807 or gifts@vet.uga.edu.

Thank you for helping our indigent clients

The G.R.A.C.E. Fund: for clients with dogs in the Teaching Hospital who have demonstrated the need for assistance.

The Kate Grant Wildlife Treatment Fund: for treating wounded wild animals and birds brought to the Teaching Hospital by walk-in clients who have found them.

The Small Animal Spaying and Neutering Fund: for spaying and neutering pets of indigent clients.

The Sundown Surgery Fund: for essential medical care for acutely ill or injured pets of indigent clients.

A big thank you for helping us build a much needed new hospital!

The Veterinary Medicine Hospital Building Fund: for construction of a new, larger, more modern teaching hospital.

Will you consider the College?

If you decide to include the College in your will, you may use this official bequest language:

I give, devise, and bequeath to the Arch Foundation for the University of Georgia, a non-profit corporation duly existing under the laws of the state of Georgia and located at Athens, Clarke County, Georgia, _______% of estate or $ _______ to be used for the benefit of the College of Veterinary Medicine.

What's an endowed gift?

Only the investment income from this gift can be used. The original principal is never touched. Income is distributed every year, but the endowment exists in perpetuity.

Donors please note

We appreciate every single gift and every single giver. We try very hard to include everyone on our honor roll and to spell names correctly. But we do occasionally make mistakes. If we have omitted your name or misspelled it, please let us know as soon as possible: gifts@vet.uga.edu or 706/542-1807. Please remember: the list includes only gifts from July 1, 2004 through June 30, 2005.

Instant holiday cheer for everyone on your list

Here’s an easy one-size-fits-all gift idea for everyone who cares about animals. You can honor a friend, memorialize a pet, or make anyone on your gift list happy by making a donation to the College in their name.

You tell us on the attached form in whose name your gifts are made and we will send each person an attractive card acknowledging your generosity.

You’ll receive some very appreciative thank you notes from them and, of course, from the College.
Meet our development staff

We can help you arrange a gift that will benefit both you and the College.

Here are some examples you may not have thought of:

- A gift of stocks or other securities
- Donation of a valued private collection
- Naming the College as a beneficiary in your will
- Donating a life insurance policy
- Donating property
- Establishing one of many different kinds of charitable trusts
- Or a quick and easy gift by check or credit card

How can we do that?

Of course, all your gifts benefit the College and its activities. But we can often design your gift so that it returns benefits like these to you:

- Providing life-long income
- Converting low-yield assets into a higher income stream
- Reducing or eliminating taxes on capital gains
- Reducing or eliminating federal estate taxes
- Generating a substantial federal income tax deduction

We’d like to meet you and talk to you about your plans — large or small — for supporting the College and hospital.

Be assured that we will keep your financial welfare in mind as well as that of the College.

Please contact us at 706/542.1807 or email gifts@vet.uga.edu.

We’re looking forward to hearing from you!
